1. While applying your weight on the seat with your arm, buckle and tighten the lap-shoulder seat belt.

2. Pinch and hold the lap and shoulder belts together.

3. Unbuckle the belt.

4. Place the locking clip no more than 1 inch away from the latchplate as noted in the car seat and vehicle owner’s instruction manuals.

5. Apply pressure on the seat and re-buckle the seat belt.

6. Test the car seat to make sure it moves no more than 1 inch side-to-side or front-to-back when testing at the belt path.
   - You can remove the locking clip by pinching the webbing in half so the locking clip falls off.
